RUMORS

by Neil Simon

directed by Gayle Poor

Ken and Chris Gorman turn up for a 10th anniversary party at the home of their friend Charlie Brock - New York's Deputy Mayor - and his wife Myra. They soon discover the servants are gone, the hostess is missing, and the deputy mayor has just tried to shoot himself. Soon more guest couples arrive and comic complications escalate when they decide to do everything possible to conceal the evening's events. Then the police arrive... and it all comes to a head!

This uproarious farce shows acclaimed playwright Neil Simon at his best.

APR 19 TO MAY 4

BERLIN

by Joanna Murray-Smith

directed by Natasha Boyd

Boy meets Girl. Girl likes Boy. Flirting ensues. The chemistry's real. She's a German bartender, he's an Aussie backpacker. Back at her Berlin loft, the dance of desire intensifies. But all is not what it seems and sparks soon become barbs.

A powerfully intelligent play where romance quickly shifts into a suspenseful, ethical dilemma, and picking a side is harder than it looks.

Don't miss this provocative thriller by celebrated Australian playwright Joanna Murray-Smith.

JUN 28 TO JUL 13

Wait Until Dark

by Frederick Knott

directed by Dean Banova

In 1960s London, Susy Henderson innocently comes into possession of a souvenir doll. Little does she know it's full of heroin and is being feverishly sought by a gang of thugs. Roat, a master of disguise, and his two henchmen try to use Susy's blindness to trick her into giving up the valuable package. Can they convince her? Or will she turn the tables on them?

This tense psychological thriller will keep you on the edge of your seat right to its gripping finale.

SEP 6 TO SEP 21

And a Nightingale Sang

by C.P. Taylor

directed by Llaaneath Poor

Helen is stoical, self-effacing and walks with a limp; her grandfather Andie recruits mourners to attend the burial of his dog; her devout Catholic mother frets about the local priest's health; her father serenades an unwilling audience with popular songs; and younger sister Joyce dithers over a marriage proposal.

This endearing play about a middle-class household in England during the Blitz of WWII is, at turns, hilarious, romantic, moving, and inspiring. A family experience that is immediate, touching, and ultimately universal.'

NOV 15 TO NOV 30

AN IDEAL HUSBAND

by Oscar Wilde

directed by Tim Scott

Sir Robert Chiltern has it all: money, influence and a beautiful wife. What could possibly go wrong? Then the arrival in his London house of a woman who knows secrets from his past threatens to expose him to public shame and bring an end to both his stellar political career and his blissful marriage.

But, with colourful and intriguing characters, and with love hovering, comic possibilities abound and farce is just a closed door away. An Ideal Husband takes a delightfully satirical look at the political and social world of upper-class London in the 1890s.

Laughs aplenty in this Wilde classic.
